Pharm by Ms.P.Mounika Assistant Professor Department of Chemistry. The objective behind organisation of this work shop is to provide the knowledge of Computer Aided Drug Design to the students which will be further useful to the students in choosing CAAD as their career choice.

Summary:

Molecular docking is a method which analyses the conformation and orientation of molecules into the binding site of a macromolecular target. Ms.P.Mounika explained how to create and validate a protein homology model and then she explained the way of calculating the binding energy for a drug to the protein. A total of 76 students of IV B.Pharmacy have utilised this opportunity.

Programme outcome:

- Participants can assess the docking results within a short span of time.
- Students can visualise the protein drug complex.
- Students can predict the 3 dimensional structure of any complex.

Objective:

A two day workshop was organised by NIPS on “Uses and Application of Animal Simulator” by Mr. Abdul Saleem for the students of II B.Pharm & III Pharm.D on 28.11.2017&29.11.2017. The main objective of the work shop was to educate the students on the usage of Animal Simulator perfectly for doing their Pharmacological experiments.

Summary:

On the first day Mr.Abdul Saleem explained the importance of animal simulator and its usefulness for knowing the mode of drug action in pharmacological experiments.

He provided the data required for logging into the software to all the students.

On the last day Mr.Abdul Saleem divided the students into batches and made them work practically in the computer lab. Students said that this workshop greatly expanded their understanding levels on how experiments can be done without sacrificing the animal models by using the software.

Programme Outcome:

- The simulator addresses local education regulations requiring the replacement of animals in teaching with modern, non –animal teaching methods.
